  - OR
  - ☐ The defendant has rebutted the presumption.

Part III - Analysis and Statement of the Reasons for Detention

After considering any applicable presumption, the nature and circumstances of the defendant's alleged conduct, the defendant's history and characteristics, the other factors set forth in 18 U.S.C. § 3142(g), the information presented at the detention hearing, and the available conditions of release under 18 U.S.C. § 3142(c), the Court concludes that the defendant must be detained pending trial because the Government has proven:

- ☐ By clear and convincing evidence that no condition or combination of conditions of release will reasonably assure the safety of any other person and the community.
- ☒ By a preponderance of evidence that no condition or combination of conditions of release will reasonably assure the defendant's appearance as required.

The reasons for detention include the following checked items (After this list, add any additional items or explanations as needed to comply with the requirement for a written statement of reasons under 18 U.S.C. § 3142(i).):

OTHER REASONS OR FURTHER EXPLANATION:

Detention hearing held. Based on the evidence and testimony at the hearing, as well as considering the pretrial services report, the Court finds there are no conditions or combination of conditions to reasonably assure the Defendant's appearance as required. Based on the evidence, testimony, and pretrial services report, the Court finds, by a preponderance of the evidence, Defendant poses a risk of nonappearance based on the following 18 USC 3142(g) factors: (1) nature of the pending charges involve financial sextortion crimes, in this case threatening to send nude juvenile pictures of the victim to her contacts on social media if she did not give him money; (2) while the punishment is not significant, the weight of the evidence is strong and the Court finds that this type of crime, committed by use of social media on any phone or computer, constitutes a continuing danger to the victim, who emailed Defendant saying "Please man this will ruin me"; (3) Defendant has no stable residence and was renting an Airbnb while staying in the United States previously; (4) Defendant has no legal status in the United States; has lived in Ghana most of his life; has not spent significant time in the United States; he was paroled in for prosecution coming in from London and parole does not constitute legal status (5) Defendant has extensive history of international travel, including to Japan, Nigeria, and Morocco ; (6) his B1/B2 visa, used previously to enter the United States was cancelled; (7) he has an immigration detainer; (8) he has significant family ties to Ghana, while only some ties in this country; (9) and is not employed and cannot work legally in the United States, owns no property, and has no assets or liabilities. For these reasons, the Court finds, by a preponderance of the evidence, there are no conditions or combination of conditions to reasonably assure his appearance as required. Thus, detention is ordered.

Part IV - Directions Regarding Detention

The defendant is remanded to the custody of the Attorney General or to the Attorney General's designated representative for confinement in a corrections facility separate, to the extent practicable, from persons awaiting or serving sentences or being held in custody pending appeal. The defendant must be afforded a reasonable opportunity for private consultation with defense counsel. On order of a court of the United States or on request of an attorney for the Government, the person in charge of the corrections facility must deliver the defendant to a United States Marshal for the purpose of an appearance in connection with a court proceeding.
